To all Prospective Bidders,

My name is Clayton Wolfe, the owner of Wolfe Farms International. I'd like to thank you for your consideration in adding our equipment to your farming operation through the Ritchie Bros auction being held in Regina, SK on November 6th, 2018. I speak confidently in the condition, quality, and build of our equipment. On our farm, all of our operators are encouraged to treat the equipment as if they own it or they will not operate it. Secondly, our maintenance program is the best that any farm could implement. All scheduled maintenances recommended by John Deere are adhered to. All fluids, parts and accessories are genuine John Deere, and are purchased from John Deere, right down to the John Deere oil. On an annual basis, every piece of equipment on our farm goes through a "Green Light" at South Country Equipment in Emerald Park. Every single recommendation on the Green Light is completed, there is no expense spared. Any repairs that are large, time consuming or are recommended for repair by the dealer are completed by the dealer. Only minor and routine repairs are completed by our well trained team. When you are looking at farm equipment once owned by Wolfe Farms International, in my opinion, you are looking at some the best equipment on the market, the best care when it comes to operation, the best maintenance program over the life of its ownership, and built with the best options at the time of purchase. We decided to partner with Ritchie Bros to disperse our equipment for the fact that we could combine our first-class maintenance program with Ritchie Bros global market place. Ritchie Bros reputation for honesty, integrity, hard work and most importantly results, led us to explore their unreserved auction sale as an option. We welcome any inquiries or questions prior to the sale and look forward to seeing you on sale day.

Thank you,

Clayton Wolfe • Owner of Wolfe Farms International
